

Will a battery swap help Ethiopia's e-mobility industry?

Sasaki pointed out that battery swapping will help address several challenges facing the growth of Ethiopia's e-mobility industry, including a sparse network of public charging stations and the affordability of electric motorbikes. Dodai's electric motorbikes cost about 150,000 Ethiopian Birrs (about 1,220 U.S. dollars).

Will Addis Ababa become a trailblazer in green transportation?

The partnership aims to establish 100 battery swap stations in Addis Ababa by the end of 2025 and increase them to 300 stations by 2026. Additionally, the partnership is expected to create thousands of jobs and help Ethiopia become a trailblazer in green transportation.

Should electric motorbike owners swap batteries from Dodai?

Electric motorbike owners will swap their depleted batteries with fully charged ones from Dodai. Sasaki pointed out that battery swapping will help address several challenges facing the growth of Ethiopia's e-mobility industry, including a sparse network of public charging stations and the affordability of electric motorbikes.

Why did Ethiopian Investment Holdings partner with Dodai?

Ethiopian Investment Holdings (EIH) and Dodai announced a partnership to promote sustainable transportation across Ethiopia. PHOTO: COURTESY Sasaki added that Dodai sought the partnership to ease its operations because battery swapping is a new business model in Ethiopia.

Will Dodai boost Ethiopia's economy?

Sasaki hopes Dodai will also help boost the efficiency of Ethiopia's economy by saving on commute time for the nation's workforce. "In Addis Ababa, the majority of commuters spend three to four hours a day commuting. Half of that time, the three to four hours, you are waiting for a minibus or van.

Can door-to-door mobility save the time for commuting in Addis Ababa?

"In Addis Ababa, the majority of commuters spend three to four hours a day commuting. Half of that time, the three to four hours, you are waiting for a minibus or van. By introducing this efficient and affordable door-to-door sustainable mobility, we can save the time for commuting by one to two hours for each person in Addis Ababa."
