

Which brand of household batteries is durable

What type of battery should I buy?

Shop around for AA and AAA batteries and the main types you'll find are alkaline and lithium disposable batteries. Lithium batteries last a lot longer in more energy intensive devices. We've found that they can give you 2-3 hours more power than an alkaline battery. But they're also much more expensive.

Which alkaline battery is best?

CinemaSound rated the cost per hour for Fuji's EnviroMax AA at the highest of all alkaline batteries they tested, edging out the Duracell Procell. Fujitsu is slightly more consistent in the sense that the battery brands we considered were almost all around the bottom of the pack, with the strange exception of the Fujitsu Universal Power AA.

How long should a rechargeable battery last?

Give it several months to a year, and your fully charged battery will be quite depleted. This is not a problem in most applications, because you rarely need to keep rechargeable batteries on charge for extended periods of time. But if you do need backups, then rechargeable AA and AAA batteries aren't a good choice. Another problem is the cold.

Do batteries rank better than other brands?

Ranking brands is different from ranking batteries, of course, and it turns out to be a lot more complicated. You cannot necessarily trust that every battery made by one brand is automatically better than every comparable battery from any other given brand.

Which rechargeable batteries should I buy?

For a busy household that's always pressing play, consider a larger set of rechargeable batteries to avoid quarrelling. HiQuick offers eight rechargeable AAAs complete with a universal intelligent battery charger that can recharge depleted batteries in three hours. Each one offers 1100mAh of power.

Are rechargeable batteries good?

Rechargeable batteries are great, but sometimes only disposable batteries will do. For long life or cold temperatures, here's what I recommend. I'm a big fan of rechargeable batteries, and that extends to the AA and AAA batteries found in myriad devices found around the home.
