

Are Chinese-manufactured solar panels putting up in European warehouses?

Chinese-manufactured solar photovoltaic (PV) panels are piling up in European warehouses, with Rystad Energy forecasting 100 GWdc of solar capacity in storage by the end of 2023.

How many solar PV modules did Europe import from China?

Credit: SolarPower Europe Europe imported around 33GW of solar PV modules from China in the first four months of 2024, representing 43% of total Chinese module exports, according to US energy analyst Clean Energy Associates (CEA).

Which countries import the most solar panels from China?

Spain, Germany and France also imported more panels from China than they installed from any source. Greece has a similar profile to the Netherlands but on a smaller scale, with the country installing the equivalent of only 15% of the capacity imported from China.

Why are Chinese solar panels so popular in Europe?

As global PV supply has concentrated in China over recent years - stemming from polysilicon production - Chinese manufacturers have been able to lower prices and dominate the market despite Europe's goals to establish a domestic manufacturing base.

Where are Chinese solar panels coming from?

The imports are heading to several key destinations, including the Netherlands, Spain, Germany, Poland, France, Greece, Italy, and the UK. The Netherlands was the standout leader in Chinese PV imports in 2022, bringing in almost 45 GWdc alone, more than ten times the amount of panels installed domestically across the year.

Why does the EU rely on Chinese solar panels?

One of the main reasons behind the EU's reliance on Chinese solar panels is cost. According to the International Energy Agency (IEA), production costs for solar PV panels in China are 35-65% lower than in the EU.
